

SUSPENSION OF ARMISTICE POSSIBLE, BERLIN REPORT; FRANCE OUTLINES DEMANDS

Hint of Impending Break With Entente Carried in Lokal Anzeiger.

GERMANY GROWS BALKY RHINE VALLEY BARRIER

Free Access of Polish Troops to West Prussia in Movement to Danzig Not Part of Armistice Agreement, Claim in Reply to the Supreme Council.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, March 29.—The Lokal Anzeiger publishes a statement that it understands a suspension of the armistice with the Entente Allies is possible.

DID NOT OFFER FREE ACCESS TO POLAND, GERMAN CLAIM

COPENHAGEN, March 29.—The full text of the German reply to the Allies concerning the landing of Polish troops at Danzig shows that Germany made a point that it did not undertake to give free access to the Polish armies to West Prussia in the armistice agreement with the Entente powers. The reply says: "Since the conclusion of the armistice the entire situation in Posen, West Prussia and Danzig has entirely changed."

Offering the posts of Stettin, Koenigsberg, Memel and Libau to the German government says that "all necessary facilities for the speediest possible landing and transit of General Haller's army to Poland will be provided."

REFUSAL OF TROOP DEMAND A BREACH OF ARMISTICE

AMSTERDAM, March 29.—The Allied note to Germany demanding that Polish troops be allowed to land at Danzig declared that refusal by Germany would be regarded as a breach of the armistice. A Berlin dispatch said: "The German government replied that it could not take the responsibility for permitting the Poles to land at Danzig, but was prepared to facilitate a landing at Stettin, Koenigsberg or Libau."

NOTE TO GERMANY NOT IN FORM OF ULTIMATUM

PARIS, March 29.—The recent note sent by the Allies to the German armistice commission at Spa, regarding the landing of General Haller's Polish force at Danzig did not take the form of an ultimatum, as stated by the Berlin newspapers, according to Marcel Huin in the Echo of Paris.

ESSEN STRIKERS DEMAND NEGOTIATIONS WITH BOHEMIANS

COPENHAGEN, March 29.—The strikes in the Ruhr industrial region are extending, according to dispatches from Essen today. Thirty thousand men are reported out.

INTER-ALLIED MISSION INTERVIEWED

PARIS, March 29.—(Havas) A rumor was in circulation here last night that the inter-Allied mission at Danzig had been interned.

NEW STAMP TAXES

Go Into Effect on April 1; Telephone and Telegraph Messages Included. WASHINGTON, March 29.—Transportation, insurance and stamp taxes go into effect next Tuesday. The new act lays a tax of three per cent on freight charges, approximately five per cent on express charges, eight per cent on passenger and Pullman fares, and eight per cent on all pipe line charges.

Discharges Expedited.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—General March announced today that he had ordered soldiers discharged within 48 hours after arrival at demobilization camps unless special conditions made it impossible.

Naval Flier Killed.

MIAMI, Fla., March 29.—G. M. Genovese of Chicago, a student officer at the naval air station here, was killed today when his airplane fell from a height of 3,000 feet in a spinning nose dive into the ocean bay.

GLEASON, W. Va., March 29.—Ten buildings, including six houses, a store and school, were destroyed by fire which swept this town today.

NAME OF LLOYD J. SHAW IN OFFICIAL LIST OF THE DEAD

Member of 110th Medical Detachment Died Long Ago of Wounds Received in Action.

A total of 138 casualties is reported today by the commanding general of the American Expeditionary Forces. Included are: Died from wounds (previously reported missing in action)—Private Lloyd J. Shaw (Mrs. Charles T. Giles), Lincoln avenue, Connellsville. Wounded (degree undetermined)—Lieutenant James H. Wiscus (Mrs. Catherine Ficus), Greensburg.

CORPORAL FRED BLUM, WINS SERVICE CROSS

Word has just been received in Uniontown that Corporal Fred Blum, noted for his bowling activities, has been awarded a distinguished service cross for heroic service at the Meuse. While his platoon was being held up by wire and other obstacles, German machine guns and other fire were threatening to annihilate the platoon. Making his way through the wire entanglements, the corporal entered the German trench and bombed the boches out of their own defense lines. He thus caused the capture of the trenches with a minimum loss by the American force. Corporal Blum is a member of Company C, 313th Infantry. He is in a darkroom hospital in New York City.

SERGEANT DUNN WINS ARRIVAL IN THE STATES

Mrs. W. L. Dunn received a telegram from her son, Sergeant Robert Dunn, stating he had arrived in the States and expected to be home within the next 10 days. Sergeant Dunn was attached to Company I, 319th Infantry, but having been wounded he returned with a casual company.

BODY SENT HOME

Railroad Officer's Victim Came of Prominent Family. The body of Virgil Curwin, who was shot and fatally wounded by Baltimore & Ohio Officer James Winber, who had placed Curwin and two of his companions under arrest as they were entering Baltimore & Ohio merchandise cars in the yards here Thursday night, was shipped to Baltimore this afternoon by Funeral Director J. E. Sims for interment. Curwin was 17 years old and was a son of Mrs. Amelia Curwin of Baltimore. He was born in Maryland October 2, 1902, and is said to have been of a roving disposition. The street on which his mother resides is claimed to be one of the most prominent residential sections of the city. Curwin's father is dead. He is survived by a sister, residing in Baltimore.

DIVISIONS WITH WAR RECORDS TO BE PERPETUATED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Retention of the names of 14 National Guard and National Army divisions with brilliant war records in the permanent military establishment is ordered to preserve their traditions was announced today by General March. For this purpose in the 21 divisions proposed to be organized in the new army, 14 will receive the following designations: 28th to be based on Camp Devens; 27th, Camp Upton, N. Y.; 26th, Camp Dix, N. J.; 25th, Camp Meade, Md.; 30th, Camp Jackson, S. The First Division will be Camp Pike, Ark.; Second, Camp Dodge, Ia.; Third, Camp Lee, Va.; Fourth, Camp Kearney, Cal.; Fifth, Panama Canal zone; Sixth, Honolulu; Seventh, divided between Philippines, Alaska and Mexican border. The 42nd (Rainbow Division) will be the cavalry division in the new organization. It will be organized in the southern department and its men will be drawn from all the states, maintaining in this respect the all-American character which was obtained in the original organization.

SIX HOUR DAY.

Will be Demand of Miners After Peace Comes.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., March 29.—Six hours as a working day and five working days a week with an increase of wages will be demanded by the United Mine Workers after peace is declared, said B. A. Scott, international board member, who yesterday arrived in Fairmont.

Mr. Scott attended the meeting of the international executive board and the general policy session of the United Mine Workers of America, which was held in Indianapolis, coming here from Charleston.

Rush Troops to Danzig.

PARIS, March 29.—News was received here today that the Germans are increasing the garrison at Danzig. This is taken as indicating an intention to resist whatever disposition the peace conference may make of the port.

SET YOUR WATCH AND CLOCK AHEAD AN HOUR TONIGHT.

Set your watch and clock an hour ahead before you go to bed tonight. Otherwise you will be an hour late tomorrow. The daylight saving arrangement goes into effect at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning and continues until next fall. Generally speaking the daylight saving law is popular in Connellsville. It works no hardship to rise an hour earlier (by the sun) and gives an hour's extra time in the evening when those 60 minutes can be put to better advantage. Sunday school, church, trolley service, train service and all will go along as usual tomorrow so far as the clock is concerned, provided it is set ahead an hour before you retire tonight.

DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW CUTS CHURCH ATTENDANCE, CLAIM

Pastor of M. P. Congregation Proposes Change in Service Hour As Result.

THE PLAN IS NOT GENERAL

May be Considered at Next Meeting of Ministerial Association; President Buckner Says His Church Will Adhere to Spirit of the New Law.

Return of the daylight saving period, which begins with tomorrow morning and ends next autumn, presents its difficulties to one class, at least—the ministers—according to Rev. J. H. Lamberson, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church of Connellsville, who said that tomorrow he will lay before his congregation a proposal that instead of at 7:30 o'clock during the spring months and 7:45 during the summer, the evening service be held at a later hour, this to be determined by the membership. "Our attendance fell off a third on Sunday evenings last summer," Rev. Lamberson said, "attributing the decrease to the fact that the people of the small cities and towns do not take well to attending evening services in bright daylight. This was especially noticeable last summer, said the minister."

Rev. Lamberson did not indicate whether he would urge services at 8:30 under the daylight saving plan, or at a half hour later than the usual hour. That, he said, would be left to the people to decide.

CASPARIS PLANT SWEEP BY FIRE; LOSS IS $75,000

Fire at Casparis yesterday morning resulted in damage to the plant of the Casparis Stone company, estimated at $75,000. The fire originated at the top of the hill where the stone is taken out, and only with the use of dynamite it was possible to get the buildings in the little quarry village.

The cause of the fire has not yet been definitely learned but it is believed the flames originated from an oil spattering about one of the crusher buildings.

Everyone in Casparis turned out to fight the fire which was checked with great difficulty. The high wind made it hard to cope with the flames and the fire burned fiercely for several hours, finally dying down about 2 o'clock.

The three crusher buildings, where the stone which is taken out at the top is broken up by powerful crushing machines, are completely ruined. The remaining buildings were saved by dynamiting. The fire was right in the center of a string of houses and the use of the explosive was the only means by which the conflagration could be cut off.

A call by telephone was sent to the Connellsville department; soon after the fire started but the local firemen did not start to attempt driving the heavy trucks over the rough mountain roads. An effort to have chemicals taken over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was not successful.

The fire loss is entirely covered by insurance and S. Casparis, head of the company, who is here says the plant will be immediately rebuilt.

Home From British Columbia.

GREENSBURG, March 29.—W. S. Ruffner arrived in Greensburg Friday morning from Prince Rupert, British Columbia, where he had been stationed in the consular department of the government. He had been in the western part of the country for about 18 months. He is now at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. A. C. Ruffner.

CONFERENCE WITH WEST PENN ABOUT FARES NEXT WEEK

Definite Date Not Arranged, Attorney E. C. Hickey, Counsel for the Protestants, Announces.

The conference between West Penn officials and the protest committee which has filed complaints against the new fare rates on the railway system, will be held in Pittsburgh some day next week in an effort to iron out the differences between the company and its patrons.

Attorney E. C. Hickey, who is conducting the legal end of the protest against the rates, said today that he had not arranged a definite date for the conference but that it would be next week. He could not say just what delegates would go to Pittsburgh to confer with the officials. Complaints from the section of the system including Connellsville, Uniontown and Mount Pleasant will be heard with a view to smoothing out the differences. Later the complaints of other sections of the system will be heard.

If the differences over the fare rates cannot be settled through the conference then action will again be taken up through the Public Service Commission. Both the protestants and the company desire to avoid this if possible.

MOTORIST ACQUITTED

Evidence Insufficient in Case of Man Whose Machine Kills Child.

Circumstances were such, according to the evidence, in the fatal automobile accident at East Hillsboro last September 15, that John Novasky should not be held responsible for the death of little Margaret Kovach, the jury held in returning a verdict before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen in Uniontown last evening finding Novasky not guilty of involuntary manslaughter and violating the automobile laws. Novasky was assessed the costs in both cases.

Novasky admitted on the stand that his lights were not burning at the time or a few moments before the accident and that he did not sound his horn but his explanation was accepted by the jury. He testified that in negotiating a bump the circuit operating the lights was broken and that he was working the switch in an effort to reform the connection. He used his left hand in that operation, he testified, and guided the car with his right. Because both hands were occupied, Novasky said, he did not sound his horn.

All testimony in the case was to the effect that the car at the time was running between 18 and 20 miles an hour, refuting the allegation that Novasky was operating the machine at an excessive rate of speed.

EUROPEAN FURY WILL NOT HALT TROOP MOVEMENT

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 29.—Recent events in Hungary, General March announced today, have resulted in no change in the military policy of the United States so far as the War Department has been advised. Return of troops from France is proceeding even faster than scheduled originally, he said, and nothing had occurred to interfere with this movement.

Troop movement homeward during the month of March, General March said, aggregated 241,136 against an estimate previously made for the month of 200,000.

GREENSBURG IN LINE

Greatest Celebration for 110th Infantry There on Its Return.

GREENSBURG, March 29.—"There'll be a hot time in the old town to day," if the plans of patriotic citizens of Greensburg to have the 110th Infantry brought to Greensburg for a big demonstration and welcome materialize. It will be some parade. No sooner had the news reached Greensburg that Philadelphia planned to give the 28th Division a reception, which would rival that put on by New York City, when they welcomed home "their own" the 27th Division, then a movement was launched in this town to bring the old "Fighting Tenth" back to its native health as an organization before the boys separate and go to their various homes. The people believe that they have a right to pay tribute to the boys as an organization, for this city was regimental headquarters before the war, many of its leading citizens were out with the same organization in '38, and no community has made greater sacrifices in the world war than this one.

BEGIN REVIVAL TONIGHT

Salvation Army Services Will be in Charge of Adjutant.

The revival meetings of the Salvation Army will begin tonight, with Adjutant James Slayton of Pittsburgh in charge. Adjutant Slayton will have charge of all tomorrow's meetings. Next week a different speaker will be on hand for each night. The first services will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the open air with inside services at 8 o'clock in the hall.

Tomorrow services will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the morning in the hall, followed by an open air meeting at 10 o'clock. At 11 o'clock services will be at the hall followed by Sunday school at 2 o'clock. Services will also be held at 3 and 4 o'clock, the first in the open air and the latter in the hall.

FINAL REVIEW OF 28TH

State Authorities Planning to Have Discharged Men Take Part.

HARRISBURG, March 29.—Details of the state's part in the final review of the Keystone Division will be taken up next week by Governor Sprout and state officials. Legislators who were here yesterday expressed themselves as favoring the plan of having the state pay transportation of men already home so that they can parade with their units.

MANY CONNELLVILLE BOYS WILL ANSWER THE CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS FOR OVERSEAS

Especially Those Who Have Received Their Discharge From Training Camps Since Signing of the Armistice.

HAVE CHANCE TO REALIZE THEIR AMBITION

The decision of the War Department to issue a call for 50,000 volunteers for service with the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe will no doubt be answered by many young men in Connellsville and vicinity, particularly by those recently discharged from the training camps in this country. Having an opportunity to realize their desire to go overseas these young men will very likely be glad to comply with the requirements of the new service which obligates them to enlist for three years.

The announcement concerning the call was made in Washington yesterday. As an incentive to enlistment the men will be offered early duty in France as a relief for men in the Expeditionary Forces who wish to return home.

Enlistment in this special force will be for three years. The men will be concentrated at Camp Meade, Md., and probably will be sent overseas in contingents of 1,000 strong.

War Department officials expressed confidence that no trouble would be experienced in raising the 50,000 men, or an even greater number if it should be found that additional increments were necessary. The bulk of the men are expected to come from recently discharged troops, who, after a short "vacation" as civilians, desire to return to Army life.

Another incentive expected to have a decided effect on the recruiting campaign is looked for among the men who, after having been drafted and trained, were prevented from going overseas by the promulgation of the armistice. Opportunity to see service in Germany, it is thought, will lead many of these to enlist.

A number of officers, probably 10 or 12, will be sent overseas with each increment of 1,000 men leaving Camp Meade.

These will be used at the concentration camps to give the preliminary training necessary to whip the men into casual organizations and to make the required exchanges. On arrival in Europe they will take the places of officers who are eligible for discharge.

Card of Thanks.
Mrs. A. T. Haney and family wish to thank their many neighbors and friends for their kindness in their late bereavement, the death of Mr. A. T. Haney. Also the young soldiers who served as pallbearers and Rev. Richardson, who officiated. Mrs. A. T. Haney and family.—Adv.

Four Given Hearings.
Four men arrested for drunkenness and given hearings before the mayor this morning all drew sentences of 48 hours each. No other arrests were made during the night.

The Grim Reaper

WILLIAM W. NICOLA.
Funeral services for William Wilson Nicola, who died Tuesday at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Nicola, at Adelaido, were held yesterday afternoon at the Presbyterian church at Vanderbilt, with Rev. D. C. White, the pastor, officiating. Interment was made in Dickerson Run Union cemetery. Mr. Nicola was 20 days past his 55th year. He had been a resident of the locality nearly all his life, coming from Somerset county. For some time he was employed at the Clarissa coke plant but had been retired owing to ill health. Death was due to dropsy. His wife, Catherine, and six children survive. The latter are: Agnes, at home; George, Broad Ford; Mrs. Myrtle Beatty, Gray's Landing; Mrs. Ella Orbin, Crossland; Mrs. Ada Hawk, Smock; Mrs. Anna Orbin, Hoboken, Allegheny county.

ALFRED HIBBS.
Alfred Hibbs, 82 years old, died Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Freeman, near Smithfield, following an illness of pneumonia. In addition to Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Hibbs is survived by one son, Ewing A. Hibbs of Uniontown.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Freeman home, with interment in the Fairview cemetery near Masontown.

MRS. LYDIA BURNETT.
Mrs. Lydia Burnett, 95 years old, died Wednesday at her home in Brownsville of pneumonia.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the home. Rev. Charles Harmon and Rev. R. C. Van Eman officiated.

JOSEPH H. BURKHART.
Joseph Harold Burkhardt, three months old, infant son of Anna A. and Frances Allison Burkhardt, died Friday at the family residence in South Eleventh street. Private funeral services, followed by private interment in Hill Grove cemetery, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the house.

CHARLES D. MYERS.
The funeral of Charles D. Myers will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, 160 Marsden street, Hazelwood.

William Oliver Dies.
PITTSBURGH, March 29.—William Oliver, a former banker and coal operator of the Monongahela valley, died yesterday in his home, 5525 Duomo avenue. He was one of the pioneer promoters of the town of Duquesne, a founder of the First National bank of that place and was its first vice president. He donated ground for most of the churches of Duquesne, regardless of sect, and was a promoter and supporter of all public-spirited movements and charities. In later years he managed his large real estate holdings in Pittsburgh and in the Monongahela valley.

Somerset Man Dies.
Samuel Shober, aged 65 years, of Somerset, died late yesterday afternoon at the Memorial hospital, Johnstown, where he was admitted on March 15. His death was due to a complication of diseases. The deceased is survived by his widow.

FOUR MORE CONVERTED

Service Sunday Evening at M. P. Revival at Broad Ford at 8:30.

The good work in the Methodist Protestant revival at Broad Ford is still going on. Last night the audience was the largest of any night during the meetings. The singing by the congregation was exceptionally good. Rev. T. M. Gladden preached the strongest sermon of the series, taking for his text, "And Felix Trembled." It was well received by the attentive congregation and deep conviction was the result.

During the altar service four persons came forward. L. E. Riffe for the third time took a dedication down in his car, which added much to the interest of the meeting. Mr. Riffe sang a very touching song, entitled "The Good News." There will be services Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, old time, which means 8:30 by the clock.

DOES SAVING PAY?

Here's What One Man Says About It.

"For ten years after I was married," said a man well known in Conneltsville, "I didn't save a cent. We spent my wages foolishly as soon as earned. Our home was shabby. We never had money for new things. Then one day I saw a light and began putting 10 percent of my pay as soon as I got it in a savings account with the First National Bank. Did it pay? Why, that was five years ago and today we have accumulated a nice sum and besides we have a better home, better clothes, better food and more healthy fun than we ever had before." Saving paid this man and it will pay YOU. Try it. Your account is welcome at the First National. Liberal interest.—Adv.

Theft of Dress Charged.
Marie Washington, colored, was arrested this morning on information made before Alderman W. D. Colburn on a charge of larceny. The prosecution, Mrs. J. J. Buttermore, claims that the Washington girl stole a silk dress from her last Tuesday evening. No date has been set for the hearing.

Uniontown Fire Wins.
The Uniontown high school basketball team again defeated the fast Washington high school five at Washington last evening by the close score of 21 to 20.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's uric acid waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then not sulk and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases. Adv.

Mrs. Charles Schroyer of Rockwood spent Friday here with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Kennerlein.

BASEBALL SUIT WORN IN FRANCE RECEIVED BY MILL RUN FATHER

Is Property of Donald Harbaugh, Now on His Way to the States, and Came Through a Comrade.

A baseball uniform Donald Harbaugh, son of D. F. Harbaugh of Mill Run, wore in France before he was wounded in the battle at Verdun, has been received by the father through a comrade of the young man, William I. Betts of Clearfield, who sent the following letter:

"While in France your son, Donald Harbaugh, Company F, 146th Infantry, asked me to try to send his baseball uniform home. In moving I got separated from my baggage and never saw my trunk until it arrived last week from France, and I am sending the uniform by insured parcel post and I trust it will arrive safely. I sincerely regret that I could not forward it to you sooner, but I had to return home on account of ill health and could not get my trunk before leaving, nor did I have the pleasure of seeing your son later, but trust that you have heard often from him and that he will return home soon safe and well."

"I have a sincere affection for your son and look back on our friendship with a great deal of pleasure. He was one of the finest of our soldiers, splendid in every way, and I cannot speak too highly of him. I shall always cherish our acquaintance."

Donald is now on the water on his way home, the father has been notified.

NEW SCHOOL AT FURNACE REPORT ABOUT DUNBAR

Present Building Condemned
As Unfit For Use Is Story
Agoing.

EIGHT ROOMS ARE NEEDED

Paderewski Club Is Entertained by
Mrs. Ray Holsing at the Home of J.
R. Senor; William Johnson, 90 Years
Old, of Mount Braddock, Is Stricken.

Special to The Courier.

PECHIN, March 29.—The report is current that because of the Furnace school having been condemned a new modern building will be erected in its place the coming summer. The people of this section feel that all the rest of the township having been provided with commodious school buildings—Dunbar No. 1 has a right to similar treatment. Dunbar No. 1 has been shabbily dealt with in the matter of schools in the past, and the patrons feel that the time has come that the treatment they merit should be accorded. A substantial eight-room brick structure in place of the present building is what the necessities require and the patrons deserve. It is hoped the board knows and will do its duty.

Musical Club Meets.
The Paderewski club, Dunbar's classical musical society, held its regular monthly meeting at the home of J. R. Senor at Keffers last evening, being entertained by Mrs. Ray Holsing, who is an active member. The exercises embraced a recital of incidents in the life of a musical artist illustrated by selections from his compositions by several members of the club. After the business and entertainment of the evening were concluded lunch was served.

William Johnson Ill.
Mrs. Charles Cole of Keffers was at Mount Braddock yesterday visiting her father, William Johnson, who is sick. Mr. Johnson is in his 90th year and generally enjoys good health, but a cold, recently contracted, has impaired his health to the extent that he is confined to his home.

Mrs. Ramage Out Again.
Mrs. James Ramage of Senon Hill, who has been sick for some time, has recovered and is able to be about again.

Making School Survey.
Bryce Colbert of Liberty visited Pechin school Wednesday. He is engaged in taking a census or survey of the schools for the government preliminary to the establishment of industrial schools in different sections where pupils will be taught useful trades. The name of the pupil, his age, his preference in industrial lines, and the occupation of his father are taken. While no definite time has been set when the proposed schools will be established, it is understood it will be within the next couple of years.

Miller Family Moves.
Wilson Miller has moved his family from Greenhouse to Church Hill into the Smiley house. Mr. Miller formerly lived at Mount Braddock, but sold his property there and purchased a farm in Westmoreland county. The death of his son following an attack of influenza caused him to rent his farm and come back to the works. Wilson Miller is a brother of Murphy Miller of Keffers, having been the son of the late Michael W. Miller, one of the pioneers of the township.

Snow Halts Gardening.
The people of this neighborhood were busy making garden until the snow of yesterday halted their activities. The early planting is confined to the hardier vegetables such as onions, beets, parsnips, radishes, peas, lettuce and potatoes. Mrs. Mary Black of Ferguson was the first to plant potatoes, which are almost ready to come through the ground.

Personal.
John Thorpe, manager of Oakmont farm for the United Refractories company, is preparing to sow a large acreage in oats and plant a large scope in potatoes and corn.

E. G. Lehman is clearing quite a scope of ground on the farm of G. W. Smitley at Keffers, preparatory to raising a field of corn.

George W. Smitley is preparing for an active summer in the lumber business. He will operate a sawmill in the mountains.

George Ramage of Percy, whose mother was a victim of the flu, is taking his home with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ramage of Senon Hill and is attending Pechin school. He is in seventh grade, and was a leader of his class at Youngstown school last term.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

"ONE POUND PETE" KEPT THE HUNS CONTINUALLY ANNOYED AND GUESSING ALL THE TIME

Writing to W. S. Livengood of Meyersdale, James O. Chambers, formerly of that place and a member of the tank corps, tells interestingly of the activities of a gunner known as "One Pound Pete" and two helpers. Pete was called "One-Pound" because he was gunner on one of those small cannon which fire a projectile weighing about one pound. Well, when they heard any noise over in Fritz's trenches that sounded like work was being done, "One-Pound" was soon on the scene and with a few well placed shots stopped all work in that part of Germany. Pete was an expert with that little one-pounder of his, and he kept the Huns worried all the time. Everything would be quiet until "One-Pound" came around and set up and then business soon opened up with a rush. Whenever Pete, with the gun on his shoulder and his two helpers, one carrying tripod and the other ammunition, hove in sight, they could look for trouble. When he found a good place his helper set up the tripod and mounted the gun, while the other helper opened up the case of ammunition. When all was ready Pete sent six or eight shots over at Fritz and then dismounted the gun, loaded everything and away they went down the line about a hundred yards and set up again.

It would take Fritz just about a minute to wake up and get his bearings after old Pete sent those shells over to him, but by the time he succeeded in locating where the shells came from, "One-Pound" had moved away from there and was waiting to snipe the first Fritz who showed up. Sometimes Fritz's compliments began coming back before Pete had got set up in his new place. Just give old "One-Pound" a target and he would drop them right into the pocket every time, and just the least smoke or sign was enough target for him. And the best part of it was that he nearly always got something. For several nights they had been hearing sounds of wagon wheels over in Fritzland, so "One-Pound" came down and looked the ground over, set up his gun and sighted it for the corner of the woods where the sound had been heard. That night when the wheels were heard again, Pete just raked that place with shells. After that they heard no more wheels. If Fritz brought anything else up to that part of the line he carried it.

YOUGH MOTOR COMPANY BECOMES DISTRIBUTOR OF THE DOUGLAS EIGHT

First of These Cars, Driven 1,125
Miles Overland, Is on Exhibition at Garage.

The Yough Motor company, which is run by John Wishart and W. H. Soisson in the old Stader livery stable, has on exhibition a five passenger Douglas Eight touring car which was brought in from Omaha, Neb., overland. The motor company will be distributors of the car for Fayette and Westmoreland counties.

The machine, which is new to this part of Pennsylvania, was driven the 1,125 miles overland by Jesse Clark. He left Omaha on Thursday morning, a week ago, and arrived here at 10:30 o'clock on Sunday night. The trip was made via Des Moines, Ia.; Burlington, Ia.; Decatur, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Columbus, O.; Wheeling, W. Va.; and Washington, Pa. The trip from Indianapolis to Connelville was made in 17 hours, Clark leaving Indianapolis at 5:30 o'clock on Sunday morning.

During the cross country trip 65 gallons of gasoline were used and three quarts of oil were placed in the engine. The good pulling power of the car was demonstrated in the mud between Burlington and Port Madison, Ia., where an extremely bad stretch of 17 miles was encountered.

On Wednesday the car was driven from here to Pittsburgh and back. It made both trips on high gear with five passengers in the machine. The car also demonstrated its worth on the Summit when it went over the mountain at 30 miles per hour.

Although the car is manufactured in Omaha there will be no difficulty in securing parts for it. A service station is established in Pittsburgh and also in all other large cities.

The motor company does not anticipate any trouble in securing cars enough for deliveries. The majority of the machines will be driven through as they can be secured more quickly in that manner and the transportation expense is not so high.

B. & O. MEN HELD

Charged With Manslaughter as Result of Laughlin Junction Wreck.

William D. Carroll, signal supervisor of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and Joseph Christian, maintainer of signals, were on Thursday held by a coroner's jury to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. The action was the result of the accident at Laughlin Junction February 10 when a light engine crashed into the Versailles accommodation, causing the death of 10 persons.

Carroll and Christian were committing to jail in Pittsburgh on charges of manslaughter of John W. Slater, one of the wreck victims, and others.

4,000 ALIENS INTERNED
Figures Are Announced by Attorney General; 900 to be held.
By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Attorney General Palmer, disclosing today that about 4,000 enemy aliens were interned during the war, said paroled would be granted to some 600 of the harmless class.
Others, he said, would be repatriated and 900 dangerous persons would be held indefinitely, including about 200 professed members of the I. W. W., or anarchist organizations whose cases would be referred to the Department of Labor with a view to their deportation.

REVIVIFIED DE ORO JOLTS OSLER IDEA BY DEFEATING YOUNG AUGIE KIECKHEFER

Winner of Three-Cush. Billiard Championship.

The fact of Alfredo De Oro at fifty years of age regaining the three-cushion billiard title that had been wrested from him by August Kieckhefer a year ago emphasizes the fact that age is no bar to the playing of championship billiards. This is another rebuttal to Doctor Osler and his theory that a man is useless after passing forty and might as well be a door-mat.

Displays Great Skill.

Alfredo De Oro has been an active player for nearly thirty years. He is supposed to have retrogressed, he is supposed to have lost his touch, but he played a ball that over whelmed a youth generally regarded as the greatest champion the amateur ever has known. Not only did De Oro win the match and recover the cushion, but he played some remarkable billiards. He scored 30 points in 37 shots, which is quite a feat at three-cushions, and finished his entire quota of 120 points in 145 innings.

This feat by the veteran is all the more astonishing because of the physical condition that he has suffered frequent attacks of intestinal trouble, but convinced De Oro to submit to a series of serious surgical operations and while he always has engaged with characteristic courage and grit there cannot be any doubt that his vitality suffered.

Other Old Players.

De Oro is not the only billiard expert who has performed with remarkable skill after passing his fortieth year. Maurice Vignaux, the famous French player, held the championship at 151 after he had passed his fiftieth year, and he defeated players like Schaefer, Slosson and others who were younger than the Parisian. True, Vignaux was eventually dethroned by an eighteen-year-old boy, Willie Hoppe, who beat the veteran expert at the barriest game played—181. It was not that the Frenchman had lost his cunning at the time, but because the younger player played phenomenally and would have beaten any man in the world at that stage of his career.

Maurice Daly, George Slosson and Jacob Schaefer, the elder, all played great billiards after they had passed the fifty-year mark, and the same is true of many other experts.

LITTLE PICKUPS OF SPORT

Joe Tinker would like to get Rolfe Zessler from the Cubs.

Georges Carpentier may come here looking for a fight, after all.

Larry Gardner has signed to play with the Athletics again this year.

A son of Al Orth, former American league pitcher, was wounded in action before the armistice was signed.

Cleveland fans are looking for better picking this year. If the Indians get it they will be a hard outfit to beat.

Yale athletes will practice morning and afternoon in preliminary trials to fit themselves to gain places on various squads this year.

Hal Juvinia will welcome a chance to play regularly in the American league. He has never been a regular with the Red Sox.

H. Makita won the recent Japanese marathon race, covering 26 miles in 2 hours 27 minutes 44 seconds. Forty of the 45 starters finished.

Fred Mitchell may be counting on the return of Alexander, but he'll be mighty glad when his pitching ace is discharged from the army.

It is expected 6,000 golf players of Massachusetts will be enrolled on the handicap lists at clubs of the various organizations in the Bay state.

A tablet will be erected at Braves field bearing the names of the members of the Boston club who were in the service. Hank Gowdy will head the list.

The Swedish Athletic association may send a twelve-man team squad of athletes to this country this summer to engage in dual and championship meets.

Legg Cadore, who is a lieutenant in the army and saw plenty of fighting before the end of the war, will be back with the Dodgers in time to go on the spring training jaunt.

Kid Gleason and Hugh Jennings, John McGraw and Wilbert Robinson—four former Orioles and all leading major league teams in the same season. What time if all were in the same league!

Serge E. F. Sweeney, the former New York American and Toledo catcher, has arrived in the United States from Europe, where he has been with the One Hundred and sixty-first artillery brigade.

Bobby Quinn of the Browns, will be surprised if Port Garlin isn't one of the leading pitchers in the American league this season.

Tex Rickard swears he won't under any conditions act as referee of the Willard-Dempsey fight. He'll do the refereeing on the receipts.

The dopsters better figure over Walter Johnson's record for 1st season before declaring him all in. He is about as through with baseball as the allies are with Germany.

Bill Fowler, Nationals' secretary, says Walter Johnson will pitch winning baseball for several years yet.

Bill Southworth, the sensational young outfielder of the Pirates, has agreed to work for Hugo Bezdek's team.

cial, but teams that engage him had better be prepared for unexpected happenings.

Charley was umpire at the last game of the year in November and was on the inside about the plays the school boys used.

"Say," he said to one of his fellow officials, "one of those men and one of a forward pass, and it was all I could do when the ball skinned over my head to keep my hands down. I could have intercepted it dead end, but I caught myself in time."

SPECIFICATIONS OF The DOUGLAS EIGHT

POWER PLANT

ENGINE—V type eight cylinder DOUGLAS MOTOR by Herschell-Spillman Company. Cylinders cast four "enbloc" and set at 90 degrees. Bore 3 1/4 in. Stroke 5 in. Horsepower: S. A. E. Rating: 33.8 Actual, by dynamometer test, over 75. Drop forged, I-beam connecting rods, finished four sides to align and balance perfectly. Large interchangeable inlet and exhaust valves, with springs, tappets and adjustments enclosed. One piece balanced crank shaft, with three large babbit bearings, drop forged from special crank shaft steel. Cam shaft, also one piece with 16 integral cams, operating in oil.

LUBRICATION—By a positive gear-driven pump, oil is distributed under pressure, governed by engine speed and an adjustable automatic valve, from the reservoir in bottom of oil pan through a longitudinal passage to the main bearings, through the crank shaft to the lower connecting rod bearings and through tubes to the wrist pin bearings and cylinder walls. Excess from pump is conducted to the timing gears. From retaining basins distributed throughout the motor the oil is strained and returned to the oil pan to be recirculated by the pump.

COOLING—Water circulation is by a double centrifugal pump through a large capacity cellular radiator, whose cooling effect is augmented by a direct-driven (no belt) 18 in. 4-blade fan. Generous water jackets surrounding cylinders and valves and ample passages throughout insure efficient cooling at all speeds.

CLUTCH—Positive grip, Raybestos against steel, dry disc clutch with powerful conical spring, that allows gentle engagement with great ease of action and operation and ample adjustment.

TRANSMISSION—Three speeds forward and reverse with direct drive on third. Standard shift. Nickel-steel gears and shafts with S. K. F. double row, self-aligning, adjustable bearings on main and counter shafts.

FUEL—Double-jet Zenith carburetor fed by Stewart vacuum system from twenty-gallon tank suspended in rear.

IGNITION—See electrical equipment.

RUNNING GEAR

PROPELLER SHAFT—Tubular alloy-steel shaft fitted at each end with dust-proof, grease-tight universal joints.

AXLES—Front: Columbia drop forged I-beam with ball bearing chrome-nickel steering knuckles. Rear: Columbia, full floating, with hubs splined to chrome-nickel drive shaft. Rock taper roller bearings on differential and pinion shafts. Helical beveled ring gear and drive pinion, and differential gears and pinions of nickel steel.

WHEELS—Selected second growth hickory fitted with 34x4 Firestone demountable rims. 12 spokes front and rear. Two Rock taper roller bearings in each wheel. (Wire wheels optional equipment on Speedster-Special.)

TIRES—34x4 straight side Firestone tires; smooth, front, non-skid, rear.

SPRINGS—2 inch vanadium steel, semi-elliptic in front; and 2 1/2 inch long-rocker-arm cantilever in rear.

FRAME—Extra sturdy, deep channelled pressed steel frame of 3-16 stock by Driggs-Seabury Ordnance Company (Savage Arms Corporation.)

DRIVE—Torque arm, from real axle to cross member on frame. Forward end cushioned with double coil springs to absorb road shocks and vibration.

FENDERS—Pressed steel, crowned and flanged. Attached to frame with rigid channel-section brackets. Splash aprons in front and at sides.

WHEEL BASE—122 ins. Speedster-Special, 126 ins.

TREAD—56 ins.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT

STARTING, LIGHTING AND IGNITION—Two-unit Westinghouse system. Direct driven Starting Motor at rear right side of engine, engages the hardened steel ring gear on fly wheel through a Bendix drive. Direct driven generator at front of engine furnishes current for the double lamp head-lights, dash lamp, tail light, horn starting motor, and for charging the 6-volt, large capacity Willard storage battery. Ignition current is controlled and directed to the 7-8 std. spark plugs by a vertical helical-gear-driven Westinghouse distributor.

HORN—Motor driven and located under hood with push button on top of steering column.

WIRING—Packard cable, heavy insulated and armored types, is used throughout. Accessible.

CONTROL

STEERING—Left hand drive. Semi-irreversible, worm-actuated steering gear with 18 in. natural walnut hand wheel. Spring padded ball joints, with grease cups on drag link.

BRAKES—Large, 15 in. x 2 in., drums with Raybestos lined bands. Service brake external on drum. Emergency: internal, with operating lever at driver's right.

SPARK AND THROTTLE—Both levers friction held on segment at top of steering column.

GEAR SHIFT—Shifting lever with ball and socket fulcrum in center at drivers right, adjacent to brake lever.

FOOT PEDALS—Service brake and clutch in usual positions, easily operated. Foot throttle or accelerator and starting button on slanting floor board.

BODY

DESIGN—Graceful stream line with wide doors. Strong, substantial wood frame covered with special body metal. Forged braces and top irons.

PAINTING—Best quality colors and varnishes, hand applied in accordance with approved specifications for high grade coach work. 21 operations.

UPOLSTERY—Deep and comfortable. Form fitting springs, generously padded with real hair. Best grade hand buffed leather.

COLOR—Standard colors: Douglas maroon; Navy blue; Battleship grey; other colors (subject to slight delay) at small extra charge.

TOP—Easily operated, one-man Fantastote top with top-boot or dust cover and full set of curtains.

WINDSHIELD—Tilted, double swing (rain vision and ventilating) plate glass windshield with automatic adjustment.

INSTRUMENT BOARD—Fitted with oil gauge, ammeter, dash lamp, speedometer, choke and switch panel.

EXTRA EQUIPMENT

ALL MODELS—Van Sicklen speedometer; Boyce momometer; robe and foot rails; rear tire carrier with extra rim; jack; tire tools; pump and tool kit.

SEVEN PASSENGER—35x4 1/2 oversize tires if desired.

SPEEDSTER-SPECIAL—32x4 tires; options of color, ignition equipment, (Dixie magneto or Westinghouse distributor), and wheels (wood or wire), and other features.

WOLVES of the SEA

BY RANDALL PARRISH

A Sweet By in a Large Circle.

It was five feet, and up, my purchase the tossing boat, but I made it, one hand, desperately gripping a shroud, until I gained balance, and was flung inboard by a sharp plunge of the vessel. My head was at a level with the rail, yet I saw nothing, my whole effort being to make fast before the grip of the men should be torn loose. This time, I glanced back into the up-turned faces below.

"Hand in slowly, lady; yes, let go, the rope will hold, and the boat ride safely through. Let a couple of men come up till we see what's wrong with the hooker—the rest of you trail on. Let Schmitt and Sam come with me." I helped them clamber up, and then, with my body out of the rail, from which position I had a clear view of the forward deck. It was impressively dirty, yet otherwise shipshape enough. Nothing human greeted me, and conscious of a strange feeling of horror, I slipped over onto the deck. The next moment the negro and Dutchman joined me, the former staring about wildly, the whites of his eyes revealing his terror.

"My God, sah," he ejaculated, "Ah—bone know dis boat—it's shore de Santa Maria. Ah's cooked in dat galley. She was a slaver, sah." He sniffed the air. "A kin smell dem cigars right now, sah. Ah sush reckon sars a bunch o' ded ones under dem hatches right dis minute."

Schmitt's hand fell heavily on my sleeve and I glanced into his solid face.

"I just bet I know vat was der trouble."

"What, man?"

"Cholera," he whispered, "ye haf banded a death ship?"

CHAPTER XXVII.

On Board the Slaver.

The terror of the two men, as they thought dawned upon them in all its horror, was apparent enough. Nothing, not even fire, was more to be dreaded than a visitation of this awful nature on shipboard. Cholera, ship doctors said, might be it, but it was far that the reckless towling alongside.

"Let's find out the truth first, men," I said quietly. "Held your tongues. There is no use giving up until we know what the danger is. Will you come with me?"

The terror in Sam's eyes ceased now to hunch, and my own courage came back with a rush.

"Afield of dead men, are you?" They well face them together, my lady, and have it over with. Come on, now, hold of you. Buckle up; there is nothing to fear, if you do what I tell you—this isn't the first cholera ship I've been aboard."

It was no pleasant job confronting us, although we had less dead men to handle than I anticipated. Indeed, we found only five bodies on board. There were only two on deck, a giant, coal-black negro, and a gray-bearded white man, his face puffed with smallpox. Examined on what was to be done, I wanted no three with either body. The two sailors hung back, terrorized at the mere thought of touching these victims of plague. I steered myself to the job and handled them alone, dragging the bodies across the deck and launching them over the low rail into the sea. I ordered Schmitt to cut the lashings and take charge of the wheel.

"See here, Sam, and you too, Schmitt, if I am in love with that girl in the boat. Do you suppose I would ever have her come on this deck if I believed she might contract cholera? You do as I say and you are perfectly safe. Now, Schmitt, remain at the wheel, and you, Sam, come with me. There will be a dead nigger aboard unless you jump when I speak."

He trotted close at my heels as I flung open the door leading into the cabin. The air seemed fresh enough and I noted two of the ports were open. A tall, smooth-shaven man, with an ugly scar down one cheek, lay stretched on a divan at the foot of the after mast, his very posture proclaiming him dead. His face was the color of parchment, wrinkled with age. The negro crept up behind me and gazed at the upturned face.

"My God, sah, he yes de of sup-tain. Paradihl! "Sab! damn his son!" In what was evidently the captain's room I covered a picked chart and logbook with no entry in it for three days. Without waiting to examine the log, I stowed them away in my pocket. Between us we forced the stiffened form of the captain through the open after port and heard it splash into the sea astern. There were two dead seamen in the forecabin, both swarthy fellows, with long Indian hair. I never saw a dirtier hole, the fifth overprowling, and once satisfied that both men were beyond help, I was content to lower the scuttle and leave them there. God! It was a relief to return once more to the open deck and breathe in the fresh air. I hailed the boat towing below.

"Come aboard, Watkins," I called sharply. "Pass the lady up first, and turn the boat astern."

I caught Dorothy's hands and aided her over the rail.

"Why was the vessel abandoned?" she asked. "What has happened? Do you know?"

Quietly I told her the truth and assured her that if we staid on deck and used our own bedding and provisions we were in no danger.

"How can I help you?"

"Tell the men just what I have told you," I said gravely. "They will be ashamed to show less courage than you."

We turned and faced them together as they formed a little group against the rail. Halla was first to speak.

"Vat was eet you say 'bout dis sheep? Bet haf cholera—eh?"

Dorothy took a step forward, and confronted them, her cheeks flushed.

"You are sailors," she said, speaking swiftly, "and ought not to be afraid if a girl isn't. It is true this vessel was ravaged by cholera, and the crew died; but the bodies have been flung overboard—Captain Carlyle risked his life to do that before he asked us aboard. Now there is no danger so long as we remain on deck. I have no fear."

The Swede shook his head, grumbling something, but before the revolt could spread Watkins broke in.

"Ah! that's right, miss. I was on the Bombay Castle when she took cholera, an' we hed twenty-one days of beatin' agin head winds off the Cape. We lost sixteen of the crew, but not a man among us who stayed on deck got sick. Anyhow, these blokes are gold-try for their luck aboard yere, or else swim for it."

He grinned cheerfully, letting slip the end of the painter, the released quarter-bow gliding gently away astern, the width of water constantly increasing.

"Now, bullets, jump for it if yer want ter go. All right then, my hearties, let's hunt up something to work with and scrub this deck. That's the way to clean out cholera."

He led the way and they followed him, grumbling and cursing, but obedient. I added a word of encouragement, and in a few minutes the whole gang was busily engaged in cleaning up the mess forward, their first fear evidently forgotten in action. Watkins kept after them like a slave driver.

LATROBE WALLOPPED BY CONNELLSVILLE IN CLOSING GAME

Visitors Are Easily Taken Over By Overwhelming Score of 47-23.

TWO MEN DISQUALIFIED

Joe McConnell Strikes Blow in Heat of a Play; Marriott Ejected When He Intentionally Hits Buttermore in the Back After Whistle is Blown.

The Connelville high school basketball team closed the season last night with a bang-up game, playing the Latrobe aggregation off its feet and capturing the contest by a score twice again as large as that scored by the visitors. The locals led throughout, although at one period the visitors tied for a moment. The final score was 47-23.

Latrobe brought a big delegation of 90 rooters along in a special car and was prepared to "take home the bacon." They didn't even get the risk, however, for although Connelville did not put up the best basketball game that the team can play, the showing was so good that in the latter part of the clash, Latrobe didn't even figure. The visitors only caged five field goals during the entire game and scored the remainder of points on fouls.

Lyon and Struble kept things going for Connelville in the first half. Struble scored two goals, being closely guarded, but Lyon broke through for four, and added four more in the latter half. Jimmie McConnell could not get going in the first part of the game, but he dropped them in fast in the latter part. The game was tight at the opening but as the quarters passed, Connelville kept forging ahead.

In the last quarter, Joe McConnell was expelled from the game when he struck a man in the heat of a play. The friction between the teams began when Marriott was substituted for Stewart to go in against Struble. That player's tactics were not pleasing and when McConnell and a Latrobe man came together a blow followed before Joe could restrain himself. McConnell is a player hard to arouse but in the excitement he let himself out.

A few minutes later Marriott of Latrobe was also expelled. He had taken the ball up the floor and was stopped by Buttermore, who was substituting for Joe McConnell. The referee's whistle blew for a scrimmage and Buttermore stepped away. For apparently no reason whatever Marriott threw the ball, which he was holding, squarely at Buttermore, striking him in the back.

Between halves the high school service flag was carried around the edge of the gym following a short talk by Referee Wall and $25 to be turned over to the committee in charge of Connelville's home-coming celebration for the Fayette county soldiers, was tossed in.

The lineup: Connelville: 47 Latrobe: 23
Struble F. Col. J. C. Schults
Lyon F. Schults
Joe McConnell C. Blazek
Moore G. Stewart
Joe McConnell G. Hazle
Substitutions—Buttano for Struble, Buttermore for Joe McConnell, Marriott for Stewart, Schaffer for Hazle, Harvey for Marriott.

Field goals—Lyon 8, Joe McConnell 8, Struble 2, Gale 2, Blazek 2, Moore 2, Schults.

Foul goals—Lyon, 11 out of 16; Col. 13 out of 25.

Referee—Wall.

Make the Minutes Worth While.

Weak characters yield the future to the passing minute. And you can't tell them about it. The best way to make people dislike you is to be cowardly only reminding them of the use of time. Each man prides himself in being his own boss, but coming days will give the lie to that little slogan that we use the present in order to reap glory in the future. The true joy of life is in what we do, not in what we have. We had it all in the mind of a bore to do not contribute something worth while to life are counted lost. He finds joy only in what adds to greater things and develops the best of character.

—Exchange.

Restoring Devoted France.

The French government has already made arrangements for bringing back into cultivation the pointed and war-torn areas from which the enemy has been driven. The dense population of France makes proof of agricultural restoration necessary to relieve the food situation. Preferred aid will be given to farmers who originally lived in the invaded regions.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE RACING STRAIN"—A Goldwyn feature with Mae Marsh in a delightful role is being shown today. Miss Marsh is starred in the role of Lucille Cameron, daughter of Colonel Cameron. She gives a large large role on her father's estate for the benefit of the Red Cross. There she meets Gregory Haines, a lieutenant just returned wounded from France, and big Jim De Luca, who has brought her father to the verge of financial ruin through some wildcat stock transactions. Haines falls in love with the soul-burn belle and Lucille shows she is fond of him, much to the annoyance of big Jim, who covets her. De Luca learns that Haines, unknown to her father, holds a mortgage on the latter's estate. Angered by her father's antics that they have been living on Haines' charity, Lucille orders her sweetheart from the house. Grieved beyond words, Haines leaves the Kentucky town and goes north. The Camerons go to Saratoga with their family Southern Pride, to race her in the Appa sweepstakes. Big Jim enters his crack racer, Torpedo, in the same event. What follows makes a climax as unusual as it is thrilling. A selected comedy is also being shown.

THE SOINSON.

"WHY GERMANY MUST PAY"—Which is being presented today is a great historical novel of the screen. The crimes of Prussianism against humanity are illustrated in definite form in this vital, heart gripping story. A young Alsatian, Conrad Le Bret, is forced to fight on the side of Germany, though his soul revolts at the hideous acts of brutality of the Hun. Wounded, he is sent to the Brussels hospital where that noble soul, Nurse Edith Cavell, tries to save the lives of men of all nations. She is shot by the command of Von Bissing for aiding an American girl to escape from his aid. Conrad goes home on a furlough to learn that his little sister, Vilma, has suffered at the hands of a Prussian officer in the enforcement of the Kaiser's proclamation. He escapes to America, and returns with the lads in khaki to avenge his sister. The climax of the story is unexpected and thrilling. "Why Germany Must Pay" is a picture that will live like a great book. Included in the cast are Creighton Hale, Florence Mills and other prominent screen stars. A selected comedy is also being shown.

SCOTTDALE THEATRE.

"PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH"—Are you a wife who is proud of her husband's fatal attraction for women? Or are you the husband in the case? In either event, you should go to see "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," the scintillatingly funny farce comedy which A. H. Woods will present at the Scottdale theatre on Wednesday, April 2, direct from the Republic theatre, New York, where it was one of the conspicuous comedy hits of last season. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is described as a fresh, stippled farcelet frolic in three acts by C. W. Bell and Mary Swan and last night the distinction of having scored sensational hits in Chicago and New York in the same season, on the occasion of its first presentation in both cities. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is said to contain one of the most ingenious plots ever embodied in a comedy. As much of it as has been divulged concerns the adventures of an innocuous young husband who is compelled to live up to his wife's conception of him as a gay Lothario. Modest and innocent as he is, she still believes him irresistible to women, and glories in his imagined past. To sustain the illusion he proceeds to pose as a dave devil, and quite unwittingly becomes involved in a desperate situation in a private suite in a lonely wayside inn. A carnival of laughter follows in the wake of his predicament, and a wealth of hilariously amusing lines and situations. Seats are now on sale at the box office of the Scottdale theatre.

Vanderbilt Man Convicted.

Walter Williamson, of Vanderbilt, in verdict returned to Judge J. C. Woods yesterday was found guilty of assault and battery, guilty of carrying concealed weapons, but recommended to the mercy of the court, and not guilty of absconding from a bond bill, but pay the costs. He was prosecuted by George Wright of Vanderbilt on the assault and bond bill charges and by Constable Rull on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Files to Replace Books.

Motion pictures will take the place of textbooks in schools and colleges according to Thomas A. Edison, in an interview recently. "The only textbooks needed will be for the teacher's own use," declares the inventor of the motion picture camera. "A great film library of educational and industrial subjects should be built up in Washington. Then these films could be loaned on the rental system to all institutions in the United States, even to the most remote rural schoolhouses, and the system could be so operated that it would pay its own way." As asserting that "anything which can be taught to the ear can be taught better to the eye," Mr. Edison continued: "The moving object on the screen, the closest possible approximation to reality, is almost the same as bringing that object itself before the child or student. The child to that object. Film teaching will be done without any books whatsoever. The only textbooks needed will be for the teacher's own use. The films will serve as guide posts to these teacher instruction books, not the books as guides to the films." By making "every class room and every assembly hall a movie show, 100 per cent attendance" will be assured, Mr. Edison says. "Why, you won't be able to keep boys and girls away from school then."

Seashore and Mountain.

I have lived by the seashore and by the mountains. No, I am not going to say which is best. The one where your place is the best for you. But this difference there is: You can domesticate mountains, but the sea is "ferce nature." You may have a hut, or know the owner of one, on the mountain side; you see a light half-way up its ascent in the evening, and you know there is a home, and you might share it. You have noted certain trees, perhaps; you know the particular zone where the hemlocks look so black in October, when the maples and beeches have faded. All its reefs and intricacies have electrified themselves in the meditations that hang round the walls of your memory's chamber. The sea remembers nothing—Holmes.

SENIOR NOTES.

Great news was brought to the seniors when they learned that the faculty had planned to give them a party.

So far no progress has been made in this line by the seniors. But when the present faculty is back of the party it is bound to be a success and we believe the seniors will do their best to make it so. All seniors have been invited as special guests of the faculty and we want a large attendance there to show our appreciation for their kindness.

In English, Miss Armstrong was giving the seniors warning about their graduation. "George, I'm a little afraid about that diploma of yours," she said. George replied, "Well, I've been trying to think all year but you know I am so good looking, that—"

Some people are in doubt as to whether Mr. Allison was just released from the Army because he came here or not. We think he must have come from a circus the way he can juggle himself on the rear legs of his chair.

It is said that a person's ability can be told by their looks. The other day Paul Shaw was approached by a paper boy who tried to sell him a paper. Paul told him he couldn't read, at which the boy replied, "You look like it." We wonder if that was a guess or whether some one told him before.

FRESHMAN NOTES.

(By Elizabeth Kenney.)

Miss Lyons:—"Florence, what makes up a community?"

Florence Wagner:—"Three houses and a barn."

Allice Atkins:—"Margaret, what makes your hands so nice and white?"

Margaret:—"I washed them."

It seems funny, but Allice Atkins added Miss Fretts a Latin paper with her name on as Algebra Atkins.

In science class, Miss Brown asked Charles Burkey what A. D. meant. He calmly replied, "After Dark."

Section A had a spelling match in Latin Tuesday. The captains were Martha Fox and Wayne Leasig. Josephine Richey was the last one standing.

Miss Van Buskirk, ancient history teacher, was absent from school Monday and Tuesday on account of illness.

Miss Fretts, Latin teacher, was absent from school part of the week on account of illness.

Will someone kindly petition the school board for a special reinforced seat for our civics class? We believe Helen Cooper could use it to a good advantage. It was just the other day she leaned over in her seat to talk to Mildred Buttermore, when crash her seat broke, throwing her very rudely on the floor. Now she is afraid to try any of the other seats for fear the same thing will happen. We might add that Helen is a little stouter than she used to be.

Miss Sherrick:—"Helen, how do you change Algebraic fractions?"

Helen Richey:—"Insert them. (Inter-)"

SOPHOMORE SAYINGS.

It has been noticed that more Sophomores than usual have been attending the basketball games of late. Of the few girls who went to Latrobe after school on Monday there were more representatives from the Sophomore class than any other.

Miss Powers, in examining a fish drawing of Florence's said, "You will have to make your stomach larger." Florence:—"I will if you give me something to eat."

Hilmeron, George and Melvin were seen going to church Sunday night. Who knows who was there?

Wednesday in Miss Lyon's class one of the boards at the bottom of a desk clattered to the floor.

Miss Lyon:—"What fell?"

Stuart:—"The school board."

Would anyone like to know what will become of some of the Sophomores in future years? Miss Long, thinking Section D was such an amusing class found out each had a rather bright future.

Charles Storey is to become an artist. George Seaton a bank president.

WHY DO PEOPLE ENDURE COLDS

When by simply entering a drug store and asking for a 25c jar of KREW-PINA they could get an end to their troubles. KREW-PINA is an ointment that kills all inflammation whether external or internal. You can apply it on your nose and chest before retiring and your cold will be broken the next morning—and a second application usually removes all trace of the trouble. It gives quick relief to croupy children and is splendid for bronchitis, conjunctivitis, catarrh, headaches, neuralgia, sore throat, burns, cuts and bruises, and the hundred little troubles that beset the average household. Put up in 25c jars and on sale at all drug stores.

EDITORIAL.

Today's issue of the Tiger will be the ninth appearance it has made in The Courier this year, though it will by no means be the last one. Yet we thought we would like to stop here and ask you if you are still reading and enjoying our paper. From the general run of comments we have received so far we judge that we are still keeping up to our standard.

In view of the fact that The Tiger is being written and published by the students in addition to their lessons and the fact that some weeks of school do not contain as many interesting events as other weeks do, we feel that we are still doing fairly well. Occasionally we do hear someone remark that "that last issue of The Tiger might have been a little better," yet when we hear this remark we are more inclined to take pity on that person rather than resent the remark for we know that the education of the person in regard to gathering, assembling and publishing school news has been sadly neglected. Otherwise the remark would not have been made, for who, knowing the time, trouble and care it takes to prepare our paper, would dampen the students' spirit and probably cause them to grow disgusted with it by making such a statement?

But the question is, do you still enjoy The Tiger and can you still give us the assurance that you are standing back of us? If you are, then we are ready to do our part by going on with the work and trying harder than ever to please you more each week.

We want to thank you, fathers and mothers and older people of the town for being so deeply interested in our welfare, both in the paper and in the school, and we can assure you that we are indeed grateful and will always do our very best to remain worthy of your attentions.

The cast for the opera "Pocahontas" has finally been completed and the rehearsals are now well under way. The principals of the cast include worthy Juniors and Seniors while the choruses are made up chiefly of Mr. Haviland's music classes.

The people of Connelleville have seen many kinds of home talent shows but the opera, "Pocahontas" with its pretty costumes and catchy music, written especially for it, is bound to give them a bigger and more pleasant surprise than they have ever received before.

The local girls' basketball team played the Dunbar Township Girls in a fast game of basketball on the Latrobe floor last Monday evening. The D. T. H. S. team won, however, the score being 15-4 in its favor. The girls never seem able to decide the championship, each having won two games.

The seniors certainly seem pleased over the announcement of the party to be given by the faculty in their favor. We frequently hear sigh after sigh coming from their corner, probably expressing the thought that at last someone has recognized the fact that they have worked hard for four years and are willing to see that they receive a little reward in return for their efforts.

Tuesday of this week C. H. S. journeyed over to Latrobe where it defeated the fast Latrobe High School basketball team by a score of 27-22.

Last night Latrobe returned the game by playing on the local floor. A large body of Latrobe fans was present. Tonight the girls' team will play the last Jeannette quintet. Yesterday's game and the girls' game tonight will bring to a close the basketball season for each team. The season has been a most successful one.

As usual the warm spring air has invaded High School, causing more than a few students to look wistfully out of the windows and to think of how much nicer it would be if school were only three months work and nine months vacation instead of the opposite.

When graduation time comes around and commencement's in our mind, we only see the merry things. To the rest we all are blind. But when we think we're finished, and part of life's race is run, we get a new conception.

For we are only just begun.

Although The Tiger is devoted chiefly to High School news we see no reason why the grade schools of Connelleville should not have a little recognition now and then, as they often have school events that are of interest to them also.

The Tiger has been asked to announce that the pupils of the grades will entertain their parents, their relatives and their friends next week with singing, folk dancing and other numbers which make up the program of their Spring Festival.

The pupils have made very attractive invitations under the direction of Miss Brickman, the drawing teacher. No school children will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents.

The festival is in charge of Miss Carroll, music teacher in the grades and will be held in the High School auditorium at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of April 4.

THE JUNIORS.

(By Earl Lucius.)

We wonder how long Miss Baker studied science.

Miss Baker says: "The warmer it is, the better I can smell chewing gum."

Mr. Stauffer's idea for marking down the grade earned in class: Insubordinate, impertinent and disobedience.

Mr. Folk:—"During what sea-on do they have most rain in a marine climate?"

Fred Danner:—"In the wet season."

Bill Allen:—"Please, Miss Baker, may I get a drink?"

Miss Baker:—"No."

Bill:—"Water, water in the hall. Miss Baker must want it all."

How dear to my heart is the steady contributor.

Who sends in his items each week. Who writes up his notes and does it so promptly.

That it makes the editor smile and say: "The Junior never says, 'I haven't had time, I've got more work now than I'll ever get done.'"

But he always says, 'I have it right here.'

He never refuses but always complies. How he lightens burdens and fills up our pages, and brings to our readers a happy surprise."

Imagine Dave Jones without a toothpick. Mary Presser without something to say. Roger Linsinger without a smile. The Juniors without Miss Baker. Ray Harrah without some chewing gum.

Mr. Stauffer cutting capers at the party given by some Juniors last Friday night.

Homers Edmunds a country joke. Kathryn Durall a school marm. Chickadee Love is going to run a soda fountain.

Jane Gans is going on the stage.

At the last two basketball games Charles Driscoll has been unaccompanied. Why, Charles?

First and second year.

Teacher:—"Name the five zones?"

Pupil:—"Temperate, Intemperate, Dry, Wet and Zero."

A lot of the pupils of Miss Clark's second year English classes are trying to learn "Snowbound" by staying in every night until 5:30 or 6 o'clock.

A lot of the pupils took French to get rid of poems, words, book reports, etc., which are included in literature, and then Mr. Smith gave them poems and book reports in English, but they're glad he did not give them biographies.

When you sit down to your lessons, which are very hard and long. And you get a couple of problems right. But most of them are wrong. Then you try to study your English, and diagram a sentence. You cannot tell the difference. Between the past or future tense. So you turn to your history. To find who liked the Spanish. You learn your ideas along this line. Have been quite outlandish. When finally you have finished. And it's time to go to bed. You are so tired and sleepy. That you wish that you were dead.

Smithfield.

SMITHFIELD, March 28.—Rev. George Goodoff, of the Coke Mission, will occupy Rev. Ralph Bell's pulpit in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday. Rev. Bell will meet his son, Ralph, Jr., that day in Pittsburgh, who has just returned from France, where he was wounded while serving with the Canadian army.

Mrs. A. C. Jones left Friday for Charleston, W. Va., where she will look after Rev. Edward Jones' (her son) family while his wife is undergoing treatment in a hospital.

Ralph Campbell is out of the service at his home here, having been honorably discharged from a Pittsburgh hospital, where he was treated for wounds received in France.

Clarence Robinson of Springfield township, who left an arm in France, was calling on friends and relatives in the borough Wednesday.

Joseph Ruble, who died at the county home Wednesday, claimed to have been a soldier in the Civil War. The poor authorities desire information that will substantiate this claim.

Mrs. Charles Fadis, a teacher in the borough schools, who has been ill with pneumonia at her brother's home here, has so far recovered as to be taken to her home at Waynesburg. Margaret Hartman is teaching her room.

A FEW LITTLE SMILES

Wife Has Her Inning.

"Say, my dear," remarked the facetious fellow's wife the morning after the night before, "the banquet of the Dippy Doses club you attended last night must have been a pretty sleepy affair."

"Where'da get that line o' stuff?" rose an audible in his wrath.

"Well," the paper says that covers were laid for twelve."

War Secretary Baker said at a luncheon in Washington:

"Ours will be the most democratic army in the world, for ours is the most democratic country."

"A millionaire, as he climbed into his limousine, started at a newboy:

"No, I don't want any paper! Get out!"

"Well, keep your shirt on, boss," the newboy answered. "The only difference between you and me is that you're makin' your second million, while I'm still workin' on my first."

Washington Post.

What Were Wrong.

Woman Engineer—There's something wrong with this engine.

Foreman of Car Shop—Impossible. It was all right when it left the shop this morning.

Woman Engineer—Well there is. I haven't caught a cow with the cow-catcher yet. Maybe the thing isn't built properly.—Judge.

They Swear It Happened.

Little Jimmie—Say, pa, do those pugies in the legislature have to take an oath of office?

Jimmie's Pa—No, my son; why do you ask?

Little Jimmie—Well, one of 'em did; you ought to heard him when he stubbed his toe the other day.

HIS PLACE.

Bronson—My son is so stupid I don't know what to do with him.

Woodson—Send him to college.

Bronson—But he refuses to study, he is so thick-headed.

Woodson—All the better for football.

Explained.

"Are you drinking to drown your sorrows?"

"Not yet. I never have any to drown till I've been drinking for a month or two."

How Can He?

Doctor—My man, you should remain quiet. You have a fighting chance.

Pat—Thin, bedad, sorr, let me up at nance. Sure a man can't do anny foughthin' 'till he's fat on his back.

Free From Commercialism.

"You insist that art is free from commercialism."

"I do," replied Mr. Stormington Barnes. "It is well known that Hamlet is the longest part known to the classic drama. Yet any actor would be willing to play it without charging overtime."
